New Post Office Here Dedicated With Ceremonies

In an impressive ceremony last Thursday, Truckee's new post office on Bridge Street was officially dedicated as a crowd of more than 100 gathered to participate in the program.

Highlighting the dedication at which N. F. Dolley officiated as master of ceremonies, were talks by visiting postal officials, music by the Tahoe Truckee High School band and the raising of the new flag over the modern structure by a color guard from Stead AFB.

Although unable to be present at the ceremonies, Congressman H. T. Johnson, whose efforts were greatly responsible for securing the new building, wrote a letter which was read by Zeph Rose.

This letter revealed some interesting facts concerning the 97 year old post office. It showed that since 1884, the postal receipts at the office have climbed from $2,717 to $29,281. It also pointed out that since December 8, 1903, the office has had only three postmasters, Mrs. Mary S. Rutherford from 1903 to 1936, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Bavier from 1936 to 1961 and now Richard T. Higgins. The first postmaster was Isaac Gray who was appointed in 1868.

Other pioneer postmasters included Robert Bell, John F. Greeley, David B. Towner, Wyatt C. Durno, Laura Edwards, William Bucknam, Walter Burckhalter.

"Our mail service is a hallmark of a free, democratic nation and may God grant that we may always keep it free," Johnson wrote. Each time you receive a

It was indicated at the meeting that while plans are progressing normally, actual construction cannot be started until all the architectural work is completed, probably next summer. This means that work cannot be started before next fall on either of the two contemplated projects.

There must also be approval by various state agencies which may delay the work, the local member of authority, John J. McGlade said.

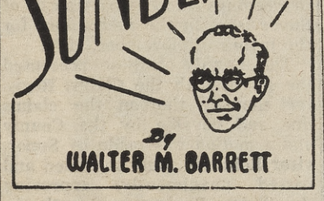
SUNBEAMS



By WALTER M. BARRETT

There is considerable agitation these days for the formation of still more districts to meet the increasing needs for additional services in this area. We do not oppose these districts, as the facilities and services they will provide are absolutely necessary if we are to continue to develop and grow as a leading recreational center. However, we can't help wondering why many of these districts cannot be centralized under one head in an incorporated city, thus eliminating a number of boards and, in many instances, a duplication of services and expense. We certainly need, under our present form of operation, every district and every board we have, and the new ones may also be a requirement under our system, but with a single board, designed to handle all our governmental needs, it seems to us, would be more simple and businesslike. Currently we do not enjoy the privileges of an organized community, we fail to get any direct substantial return from our tax payments and do not benefit from the several tax and license refunds from the state. Incorporation, in our opinion, would solve many of our problems and ease our growing pains, but if this isn't what the people of the community want, then by all means we must continue to form and support districts.

Recreation Plans Dim As Protests Are Being Added

There is a possibility that the proposed Truckee-Donner Recreation District proposition may never come before the voters.

A second hearing will be held November 14 at 2 p. m. in the supervisors' chambers of the court house to determine whether protestants against the formation of the district represent a majority of the assessed valuation.

Several petitions and letters were received at the November 1 meeting of the supervisors asking exclusion from the district or protesting the formation. William Cassettari, assistant district attorney, told the board that if the protestants constitute a majority of the valuation the issue is automatically dead.

Requests for exclusion came from Soda Springs, Kingvale, Floriston and Donner Lake.

In the beginning it was proposed that no property within the district be excluded and Cecil Edmunds and Dr. H. P. Tapia, representing the Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce appeared before the meeting to urge inclusion of all lands in the fifth supervisorial district.

Rain Maker Will Operate In Area

Edmond C. Jeffery, 49, of Olympia, Washington, predicts that his rain making efforts atop a 26-foot tower at Fourth and Vine streets in Reno, will result in one inch of rain over a 100-mile radius from Reno beginning Saturday and lasting through Sunday.

At the same time, the weather bureau at Reno predicts a light precipitation for this area during the next few days, so it's going to be difficult to determine what causes the rain—if any.

Jeffery said rain is expected to fall over 50 per cent of his target area.

Jeffery, who hopes to sell his idea to some government agency, said the rain-making idea is not his own, but claims he had a successful rain trial run last September near the Mexican border.

Power Company Raps District For Refusal Of Offer

Apparently the Sierra Pacific Power Company is not satisfied with the blunt refusal of the Truckee Public Utility District to sell or lease the electrical department.

In a page advertisement this week, the company is appealing to the people of the district to further their cause. The ad is highly critical of the directors of the district for not accepting the offer to negotiate for the purchase or lease of the local facilities and emphasizes the points of the proposition made three weeks ago.

The directors refused the offer through a resolution which was strongly worded and which placed the blame for the district's current difficulties on the company's refusal to extend service to the district, thus permitting its growth and development, except on the terms specified by Sierra Pacific.

The local officials expressed strongly their confidence in the bright future of the district in this fast growing and progressive area and are seeking means of bringing the economic condition of the district to a more sound footing. In this regard, Congressman Harold T. Johnson of Roseville has offered to assist in every way possible to obtain a block of low-cost power for the district from the Central Valley Project.

In the ad, the Sierra Pacific announces that the offer to buy or lease still stands and calls upon the people of the district to hear more details of the proposal.

PRACTICE REQUIRED FOR BEST DRIVING

Proficiency in anything requires practice, and that includes safe driving techniques.

"Most drivers are quick to learn the manual part of operating a vehicle. Not as many apply that knowledge in a mature, level-headed manner, practicing every day to be a better driver," pointed out California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden.

"Observing speed limits, allowing a safe following distance, and signalling every intention to change position or direction of the vehicle are a few important indications of the practiced motorist's approach to legal, safe driving.

"On the other hand, the person who edges over the speed limit, shifts abruptly from lane to lane without warning, or 'tail-gates' the car ahead is demonstrating his ability in the really skillful part of driving. He has not learned that, because accident-causing situation can arise at any moment, the wisest course is to reduce that possibility by applying every safe driving technique at his command," the commissioner said.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO—(CNS) — Governor Edmund G. Brown says he won't tolerate "the law of the jungle" in California, and says he will "move to stem the tide of juvenile violence."

This, of course, is a heartening assurance from the corner office, despite the fact that it probably is more lip service than actual action to be on the part of the state.

In the first place, the state has little to do with local law enforcement, unless it breaks down completely, and there is no evidence as yet that law enforcement has broken down completely anywhere in California.

The governor made the statement at a recent conference of the California League of Cities in San Francisco, and announced he intends to hold a governor's conference on youth for community services on November 13 and 14.

Whether that problem will get to the real heart of the juvenile problem and attempt to do something about it, is a question.

As has been stated in this column a good number of times, the problem is deeper than appears on the surface. First, it is a responsibility of parents. Second, it is a responsibility of the state, in changing labor laws to permit young people to keep busy, and afford them the honest opportunity to get jobs and start on their own, when they still are down in the 'teen ages.

Psychologically, the youngster wants to be important, outstanding and be able to hold up his head among his fellows, both colleagues and older individuals, including his parents. The teenager whose parents furnish him everything, perhaps without his earning any of it, naturally is looking for someplace to shine.

Because he can't go out and get jobs on his own, feeling a rebuff from employers every time he seeks a job, he is going to find some place else to let off steam. And let it off he will in the field of juvenile delinquency if the ordinary sources of occupation, such as a job after school and on Saturdays, are denied to him.

The red tape surrounding the hiring of juveniles is such that few employers, except those which are more enlightened and have time to fill out all the forms, render adequate supervision to see that none of the rules and regulations of the state are violated, and cope with the inspectors which visit establishments hiring young people, will extend their employments to youngsters under 16. Before the youth is 16, his pattern is drawn up perhaps in delinquency, and when he really can get a job, he perhaps would rather stays with the gang.

Work patterns which start early in life seem to be those which keep young people out of the delinquency class.

California's strict child labor laws were drawn up in an age when employers were taking advantage of youth. Labor unions assisted in establishing these laws on the statute books, and they have remained there ever since. No doubt they have served their purpose and should be revised, so that eventually, the state can get to the core of the delinquency problem.

EUREKA!

The Gold Rush inspired California's selection of a state motto

GOLDEN MOMENTS

In California history—the Greek word Eureka ("I have found it") was a natural choice for our state motto. Eureka symbolizes the miracle of prosperity—a California tradition since the Gold Rush.

In California life—today beer also stands for prosperity. In 1960, many of our California schools and highways were partially supported with taxes paid by brewers —one more reason why beer means better living for all in the "Golden State."

SUMMIT SCENE

By FRAN COUILLARD

Yeh, we know that we missed you. And we're glad that you missed us, too. First thing you know it was Tuesday and the rules are "Get that thing in here on Monday or else." And I didn't. And so we will have to add another page to Old Republican Sol to squeeze in all the local happenings.

We start where we left off. Our Halloween party. The two beautifully figured creatures—both in black jerseys and leotards were Betty Aro and Karen Sayler. The first skin diver—the second a "winkie doll." The "mountaineer" was Dorothy Cannon. The Marin Ski Club kids were that heterogeneous bunch that represented by a Raggedy Ann and a Mr. Raggedy Ann —a leopard skin attired buck—a whirling dervish complete in red and white underwear (looking like a stick of peppermint candy) and the old bag tied up in an appropriate potato sack was yours truly. And the pie eater was Jim Cross from Kingvale.

We really intended to find us an old soda water bottle and bedeck ourselves with old bed springs. (Get it.) But with these new fangled posterpedic mattresses—and these foam rubber—and these inner spring lay me downs couldn't find an old bed spring to save me. And after blowing up 50 black balloons and 50 orange balloons — we didn't have enough wind left to go a begging.

And speaking of balloons—ours lightly fluttered in their tied positions until Tuesday — when they were unmoored and taken to the Donner Ski Ranch for our kids Halloween party. (And if you think that there can be an unmanageable load—then you should try to corral 100 balloons full of Couillard hot air).

Well—enuf of the lighter side. We now must face the tremendous efforts of the Donner Summit mothers to keep their various broods under control on this night when the regulator is taken off the gas pedal. And the following program is transcribed:

It says: Under school age: Best Costume, Dinnette Morey as Little Bo Peep.

Next Original: Mitzie Sayler as Pumpkin.

Kindergarten and first grade: Best—Diane Morey as Little Red Riding Hood and most original, Linda Hampton as black cat in trick or treat box.

2nd and 3rd grades: Best, Susie Aro as a page.

Most original: Gail Pane as cave man.

4th 5th and 6th grades: Best Lynn Aro as a head hunter.

Most original: Don Morey as Harpo Marx.

7th and 8th grades (outfits made by Donna Morey): Best, trio of the gay 90's belles, featuring Judy Feathers, Marsha Kopasek and Donna Beasley.

Most original: Gay 90's swimmers with Bunny Board as the man and Barry Cardwell as the

J.S.A. DELEGATES TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Thirteen members of Tahoe Truckee's new Junior Statesman of America chapter will attend a statewide convention to be held at the El Mirador Hotel in Sacramento, November 10 through 12. Delegates include the club's executive board: Al Eberhart, chairman; Jack Sigesmund, parliamentarian; Cathy Barker, comptroller; Kitty Bean, secretary; Kent Fugazi, assistant secretary; and Joel Sigesmund, publicity director; and seven chapter members selected by the board, Mike Jinks, Sue Moyer, Margy Mandeville, Sue Clegg, Sandy Fellows, Paula Peterson and Sharon Huot.

The purpose of the convention is to acquaint J.S.A. members throughout the state with the use of parliamentary procedure in a legislative body; and how to present resolutions through actual legislative techniques, such as debating.

The convention weekend will include a Saturday night banquet at which the guest speaker will be Governor Brown.

This convention is one of two statewide get-togethers to be held this 1961-1962 school year. Next spring, another convention will be held in Los Angeles.

TNT BAND PERFORMS AT DEDICATION CEREMONIES

Twenty-five musicians of Tahoe Truckee high school's senior band supplied the background music for the dedication of Truckee's new post office, November 2. Accompanying the band were the three flag twirlers of TNT, Carla Baxter, Vicki Rich and Michelle Davis.

TNT SUFFERS WINLESS FOOTBALL SEASON

With the losing to Del Oro last Friday, Tahoe Truckee high school's varsity football team ended a losing streak for the second time in two years. Our Junior Varsity, however, played a split season demonstrating some fine skill and practice.

Even though our varsity did end its season with no wins, great effort and courage was prevalent throughout the games. If we had lost without showing any effort, then it would have been a bad thing; but we did give whatever we had, and this is what counted.

DIVOT-DIGGERS

By BETTY KIELHOFER

Eve Popovich is leaving next Saturday for two weeks vacation with her folks in Ely, Nevada, so if you are wondering what happened to her, now you know. Mike will fly over to join her for Thanksgiving . . . Probably our most loyal golfers are Claudia and Walt Loynd. Though it's most deserted out there, you can still catch a glimpse of them darting up and down the fairways . . . literally dozens of people have told me they are taking up the game next summer . . . never thought I'd want to see it but I'm actually looking forward to the day when we have a waiting period on each tee . . . it will come all too soon, I'm afraid, but with each new member, we'll have that much more fun . . . the country club was hosted at the Charles Fink home on Monday evening. They voted to continue meeting all winter and suggested as interesting activities to fill the long winter months. The skating party, a family affair, will be first, and we'll let you know more as soon as the plans are complete. It was also decided that anyone wishing to join the club for this last quarter would be able to do so for the nominal fee of $1.25 per person. This pro-ration would be extended only for the last three months of each year. Those who join at any other time will be charged the full $5. Memberships expire Dec. 31 . . . If we do put on a play, we want all members to work on ideas for it and anyone who has talent to be a part of it, not just club members. It could consist of skits, songs, dances, just anything that would be of interest to the public . . . sound like fun? If you would like to have a part in it or know someone who would, contact Patti Fink or Virginia Paddock, our social chairmen.

Measurable amounts of precipitation fell in each of the major hydrographic areas of the State sometime during the past month. Most areas north of the Tehachapis were blessed by mid-September rains that made July, August, and September totals exceed normal amounts for the three-month period. Quantitatively, these summer rains could not alleviate the critical shortage of water supply resulting from three successive dry years. Still, experiencing above-average precipitation for even a period such as this is truly a psychological "shot in the arm" for many of these parched regions. Temperatures throughout California generally were below normal during September, thus ending the above-normal trend that has existed over most of the State since May. Although conditions are still serious, prevailing lower temperatures and the above-normal precipitation resulted in a general reduction in fire hazard throughout California. The first snows of the season were reported at higher elevations of the Sierra, with some areas being covered by a blanket 4 to 6 inches in depth.

WE MADE A VERY FAIR OFFER TO THE PEOPLE OF TRUCKEE

AND GOT OUR REPLY IN THE NEWSPAPERS WITHOUT EVEN THE CONSIDERATION OF AN APPEARANCE OR ANY ATTEMPT AT ANY NEGOTIATIONS TO LEARN WHAT BENEFITS MIGHT COME TO THE PEOPLE LIVING IN TRUCKEE!

IS THIS FAIR—RIGHT—AND PROPER?

WE OFFERED THIS

HERE'S WHAT WE OFFERED TO THE PEOPLE YOU HAVE IN CHARGE OF YOUR UTILITY DISTRICT WHO ARE RESPONSIBLE TO YOU AND WORK FOR YOUR INTERESTS:

1. We offered to lease your power service or buy it outright (as you choose) for some $300,000. If we leased, you could take it back after 10 years, simply by paying for the improvements we made.
2. We offered to rebuild your present power system, which is in extremely run down condition. We would modernize the system promptly, thus giving you modern service.
3. Cost of electrical service to a consumer would be essentially the same as it has been.
4. We would be willing to purchase or lease the water system on a similar fair basis, if you so desire.
5. We would offer to continue the present employees of your power service in their jobs.
6. You would be able to keep alive and functioning the improvement district which has been such a strong element for civic improvement. Actually, the district would simply sell us the electric service and keep alive and operating all other functions.
7. In announcing our offer to buy or lease, we told your officials all about it, and even showed them the information we are going to supply the press about the offer so they would be fully informed, and have full opportunity to discuss the matter with us and among themselves. We felt this was the right thing to do. We have never received a letter or any request to discuss the matter at all. Our first news has been to read a news story in a Sacramento paper stating our offer was rejected out of hand without any negotiations or discussion.

YOU WOULD BENEFIT

Your power rates would stay about the same.
Your electrical service would improve greatly.
If we lease the system, you could reacquire a completely modern electrical system at the end of the lease period.
Your power would be more reliable with a modernized system.
You still keep your fine improvement district.
Nobody loses any jobs.
We are willing to work out a fair arrangement for street lighting arranged to keep the people of Truckee from being out of pocket.

WERE YOU CONSIDERED?

Don't you think YOUR employees (the people you hire and pay to run your utility) should have explored the offer we made them?
Don't you think they should have tried to drive a hard bargain for you?
Don't you think they should have negotiated with us?
Don't you think they should have taken the matter up with you and explained both sides, perhaps held public meetings with us there to explain matters too?
Why weren't YOU included? It's YOUR power company, YOUR service, YOUR affair.

OUR OFFER IS STILL OPEN

WE'D LIKE TO DISCUSS IT IN FRONT OF YOU!

In asking for weather predictions for the winter, two have come forth. Take your choice.

Otis Wing prediction: Real bad, tough, and rough winter. Why? Size of Bill Van Hoosers wood pile.

E. C. "Ted" Lewis prediction: Going to be a real humdinger. The bears are coming down from the high places on the west side. Understand this happened the winter of 1951-52 which was sooo bad.

Well?

PLANE FORCED TO LAND ON SUMMIT

Ice in the carburetor forced James McCawley, a Sacramento pilot, to make an emergency landing of his aircraft in a clearing eight miles south of Soda Springs. He was not injured.

The single engine plane was on telephone patrol duty and is based at Sacramento.

McCawley radioed his position and was picked up by a ground party three hours after the landing.

woman.

Boy, what a lot of work! Mrs. Morey, whom you read designed the 7th and 8th grade costumes, I am told, made up nine kids, out of which number six won costume prizes.

And to still keep things under control, the teen agers had a twist in the basement recreation room whilst the itty bitty ones played such games as a three-legged race, peanuts in a pumpkin, sack races, crackers and balloons in a spoon race.

The hall was appropriately decorated by Donna Morey, Betty Aro, Betty Hampton, Karen Saylor, Barbara Zorich, Olga Lyddane, Bonnie Carter and Betty Board.

And an appetizing Halloween tit bitty repast was apple cider, coffee and pop corn balls! Wow! And as the whole community went in on the cookie deal, and gobs left over, same will be served at the ski swap to be held at the Ski Ranch on November 20. And a scare-crow, fit to scare the kids, and a witch on a broom were "donated" and "originated" by Donna Morey, whilst Karen Saylor hung a spider on a huge web to fill in on the decorations. What a party!

There are those who would give their eye teeth to permanently reside in this here mountain. Unfortunately, the community is not large enough to support all of this category. They "haunt" the mountain on weekends, in vacation time, in the winter months they are the snow sport enthusiasts, and in the summer months they are fishermen and hikers as they soak up the clean, cool. sun-soaked air.

A few have been hearty and brave enough to give up their responsibilites and tackle jobs that they know will cost them all the leisure hours that they have heretofore enjoyed. They fully delude themselves that a few hours can be captured to enjoy this El Dorado and indulge themselves in the particular sport that has lured them this far, whilst they work! Some of these remain and became a name in the "old timers" department. Some bodily pull themselves away from the granite magnet and drift back into their category of transients.

These latter are such familiar faces they seem to belong to us Amid these is one formerly Barbara Luke. Barbara sold real estate up here for a couple of summers, out of the Pla Vada subdivision. She also purchased a lot with an idea of becoming a permanent member of the community.

However, Barb has three kids to support — and she was smart enough to realize that a heavier populated community would be more advantageous to her particular need. Barb called on us this past Sunday with a new husband, Bill Burns of Auburn. Their wedding must have been quite spectacular. It happened in Las Vegas, and Bill's two kids and Barbara's three kids were the stand upees. We wish them all of the luck in the world. And this new combination now plan on building a summer home on the magnet that they can really enjoy at their leisure. Lots of luck.

Then another "match" report. Remember Dot Piche of Kiski? A short while back, an attractive slim blonded woman came toward me with hand outstretched. It took me at least a full minute to realize that this person was Dot—a completely "made over" Dot. She is now Mrs. Russell. Resides on the south end of Lake Tahoe and looks radiant. I told her that I was again reporting in the Sun and she asked that I convey her children's best wishes to the youngsters that they went to school with in this area. So Larry and Sharon—you are now reintroduced to your old friends.

So much for the matched department.

And in this "familiar faces" category. Many of you have met Frank and Virginia Wooten. Remember? Frank, formerly city editor of the Tribune. We are happy to say "formerly" because Frank and Virginia are very happy to be the new owners of the Atwater Signal. We have their first edition in front of us—their "Get Acquainted" edition.

Virginia grins at us from the first page as though she enjoys her new title of "Society Editor" and Frank looks solemn as he captures the title of "Publisher." Kind of shakes me. People being so darned brave. Giving up a wonderful job, a certain prestige, selling out lock, stock and barrel like a dream home in Orinda, like a sail boat, like an old jalopy for "shopping purposes" like hundreds of friends, and tackling a whole newspaper so far away from home.

But if you could look at this picture that I am looking at—complete with two daughters (Barbara and Kathy) well, guess no mistake was made here. And we wish them the very, very best.

We don't know where this next item fits in. Not under "old timers"—not in "familiar faces" but it could institute a new heading called "Progress." Gladys Rohl of the Auburn Chamber of Commerce gave us a friendly ring on the phone. Says she "mayhap you could tell me the names of your civic minded?" That new stretch of highway that runs by Monte Vista, Baxters, Dutch Flat, etc. will be dedicated on November 13 — with a luncheon afterwards at Monte Vista Inn. So while the old Hydraulic Diggin's weep at being left alone, and Dutch Flat can bask in the historical glory of former years as it snoozes peacefully, finally at rest from truck back fires and the snarling of brakes, that concrete carpet nails itself down at the corners and asks to be recognized. So there.

INTERESTING FACTS SHOWN IN REPORT

In a review of the recently received "Annual Report of Financial Transactions Concerning Special Districts of California," for the year 1959-60 as prepared in the office of State Controller Alan Cranston, some interesting facts and figures are revealed, according to Cecil Edmunds, chairman of the economic committee of the Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce.

In the foreword of the report, Controller Cranston states: "the formation of special districts to provide solutions to special problems has become a part of the tradition of strong local government in California. Special districts historically have been formed to provide a variety of services which a given group of citizens have decided they could better obtain through joint effort rather than individual action."

That the activities of these special districts (which does not include school or irrigation districts) is no small business, continued Edmunds, is indicated by the report, which states, that the 3,123 districts listed, collected taxes, service charges, subventions and grants and other sources, a total of $335,740,295 and had a combined outstanding indebtedness amounting to $1,030,648,660.

Of the total income of these districts 52.6 per cent was obtained from charges for services, 36.3 per cent came from taxes or assessments and the remaining 11.1 per cent from subvention grants and other income. The expense of the districts were 34 per cent for salaries and wages, 32.6 per cent on capital outlay and 33.4 per cent on other operating expenses.

Los Angeles County led with a total of 345 districts, over twice as many as Sacramento County which was second with 161, and Nevada County was fifth from the bottom of the list with a total off 11 Districts, with Alpine County ending up with only 2 districts.

Of the 11 Nevada County special districts, nine embraced a portion of the fifth supervisorial district. Of these nine, four only, taxed the property owners in the Truckee-Donner Lake area. They were the Tahoe Forest Hospital, 25 cents Truckee Tahoe Airport, 5 cents. Truckee Sanitary 60 cents, and Truckee Fire District 47 cents, for a total of $1.37. Other districts within this area but shown as operating without any tax were the Truckee Cemetery District, Truckee Public Utility District, Nevada County Soil Conservation District and the Nevada County Water Agency.

The Donner Summit Public Utility District had a 50 cent tax within the area of their operation

LIFESAVERS

It is O.K. in California to make a left turn against a red light when turning from a one-way street to another one-way street, provided you are in the proper lane and that you stop first and yield the right of way to pedestrians or other vehicles that are proceeding as directed by the signal. The California State Automobile Association points out that such a turn may be prohibited at certain intersections but in this event a sign will be posted which prohibits such a turn.

As a result of the 1959 Montana earthquake, 19 persons were reported missing and presumed dead.

A correlative citation from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "It is only by acknowledging the supremacy of Spirit, which annuls the claims of matter, that mortals can lay off mortality and find the indissoluble spiritual link which establishes man forever in the divine likeness, inseparable from his caretaker" (p. 491).

Wellll...What Did I Tell You Twenty Years Ago?

DANCE IS ORGANIZED FOR TEEN AGE GROUP

A group of interested and concerned adults and teen-agers have been hard at work creating what is hoped will be an active and exciting new activity for high school age young people in the Tahoe-Truckee-Kings Beach area.

A group of parents headed by Roy Barker of Tahoe City has helped the formulation of an idea. The idea is to have weekly teenage dances that the teen-agers themselves help to run. Through the courtesy of William Newsom of the Olympic Village Hotel the use of the Nevada Center in Squaw Valley has been turned over for use by the young people on Saturday nights, 8-12. Through the help of Earnest Riley of the Smokey Bear Restaurant in Squaw Valley there will be refreshments

Dick Person the coordinator of activities in Squaw Valley has proposed the idea of a Teen Age Club similar to a club formed in the Mount Shasta area which has not only run an exciting program of teen age dances but has become a force for good in the Mount Shasta area. The United Church of Christ of Squaw Valley is lending its support in helping to get this project under way.

The next step will be the combined effort of parents and teen-agers to get the program under way.

Saturday evening, November 11, with live music, and the setting of the Nevada Center, this program will get under way. It needs the support and the interest of everyone in the area.

In order to meet expenses of the band the cost will be $1 per person or $1.50 per couple.

SINGLE GIRLS MUST EARN $2,854 YEARLY

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — If you're a single working girl and supporting yourself, you're in trouble if you're not making $2,854.98 per year.

The state division of industrial welfare has worked out a "Minnie's Budget"—the minimum for which a self-supporting working woman can live a year in California. The budget was formulated to learn the minimum amount on which a woman could live in the state, maintaining her health, her job, her self-respect and the respect of her friends and fellow workers.

The biggest chunk of Minnie's budget goes for food and housing. The division estimates it takes $1,121.24 a year for these needs, based on the cost of half of a three-room apartment shared with another woman, half the cost of food for meals cooked at home by two women, and the cost of lunches eaten in restaurants five days a week.

The budget also includes $283.90 for clothing; $200 for medical, dental and optical care; $200 for insurance and savings for emergencies; $166.36 for recreation, education and reading material; $175.88 for transportation; $85 for miscellaneous items; $56.49 for personal care; $46.03 for clothing upkeep; and $520.08 for income and payroll taxes.

BIRDS TELL STORY OF MAN IN ATMOSPHERE

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — The ducks and geese winging their way southward, as well as the deer moving from summer to winter ranges, are helping to tell the story of what man may be doing to the atmosphere.

Harold D. Bissell, of the department of fish and game marine resources division, said testing of fish and shellfish, waterfowl and deer for traces of radioactivity have been in progress for several years.

But Bissell is quick to point out there is no reason for alarm or reason to fear wildlife or fish may be so contaminated as to be dangerous.

"We are accelerating our program to establish as much background as possible for future use in evaluation effects of fallout," Bissell said.

Bissell said there always has been some radioactivity present in fish and wildlife and the studies are being made to determine how much usually is present. Then, if these amounts suddenly show increases, conclusions might be drawn.

Despite reports of a "hot" duck at Tulelake and antlers of a deer in Nevada with enough radioactivity to expose a photographic plate, Bissell said nothing of this proportion has been found in California.

"The key factor that often is glossed over these days in reports of the presence of radioactivity is that there always is some present," Bissell said. "Many reports of testing now do not take that into account."

Bissell admittted that the testing of deer, ducks, geese or marine life do not provide instantaneous detection methods. Radioactivity found in a duck head or deer jaw may have been present for several years. However, the amounts found, and where the animal or fish came from, provide good background knowledge, he said.

TAHOE MAN SERVES IN SOUTH EXERCISE

LONG BEACH, Calif. (FHTNC)—Charles L. Harper, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reed D. Harper of Tahoe City is serving aboard the guided missile light cruiser USS Oklahoma City, home ported at Long Beach, a unit of the First Fleet taking part in Exercise "Covered Wagon" off the coast of southern California.

The seven-day exercise, which began October 20, included a fast carrier striking force of surface ships opposing shore-based patrol aircraft, medium jet bombers and submarines.

HUNTERS REQUIRED TO DECLARE GAME

The department of fish and game today warned that all fish and game brought into California from out of state must be declared at the time of entry into California.

The department said a recent check made at California ports of entry showed that many sportsmen returning from out of state were not aware of the fish and game declaration requirements although they have been state law since the 1800's.

Such a declaration is not required if fish and game are shipped into California by common commercial carrier under a bill of lading.

Fish and game declaration of entry forms are available at all California points of entry checking stations operated by the department of agriculture, and agriculture quarantine officers at those checking stations are authorized to witness the forms.

The forms are also available from any office of the department of fish and game or from any DFG warden.

WARNING WILL BE IN MAIL FOR VIOLATORS

Tom Bright, state director of motor vehicles, announced resumption of a program to issue warning letters to thousands of California drivers on the verge of having their licenses suspended or restricted.

Aimed at drivers who have accumulated the maximum number of traffic violations before review by the department of motor vehicles, the program was discontinued two years ago.

Governor Edmund G. Brown said the warning letter system has "my full support."

ZORICH SKI SALE TO START SATURDAY

SODA SPRINGS — Barbara and Bud Zorich, whose Soda Springs ski shop will feature its annual pre-season ski equipment sale starting Saturday, have announced an unusual event. For those who enjoy the sport of skiing but cannot afford equipment, the Zorichs have a stock of used equipment such as bindings, boots and even skiis which they will donate to the youngsters.

Zorich is no newcomer to the area and the sale marks their 10th anniversary on the summit. He is a familiar figure with the skiing world having been a director at Soda Springs for four years and held a similar position at the Donner Ski Ranch. He taught skiing in the 10th Mountain Division during the war for three years and has been a certified instructor for 15 years. He placed fourth in the national veterans down hill event last year.

leter from a loved one, or post card to a friend, remember this is a free country, one which permits us to communicate our thoughts and our beliefs in the absolute security of individual opinion through our wonderful postal service. Let's keep it that way."

Father Patrick Coffey gave the invocation at the Thursday program and Rev. Roy Rhoades gave the benediction.

Speakers included Dolley, Posie Quesinberry, field officer for the postal department at Sacramento and John Keast of the regional office at San Francisco who represented Postmaster General J. Edward Day and who presented the new flag which flew over the capitol in Washington.

Mrs. Patsy Tonini read an impressive history of the flag as it was being prepared for raising. Postmaster Higgins spoke briefly, welcoming the visitors and later conducted a tour of the new facilities.

Others on the platform were Harold P. Norton, owner of the building which is being leased by the government; John S. Corbin, superintendent of schools and Ivan Tofft, president of the Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce who shared honors with Higgins as host for the occasion.

Following the ceremonies and inspection of the beautiful new building, the chamber of commerce was host at a luncheon held at Smart's attended by some 50 invited guests, including a number of postmasters from throughout the area.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor,

On Halloween the people of Truckee contributed $15.40 to the United Nations International Childrens Emergency Fund.

The people who were collecting the money were some of the children of the Sunday school of the Truckee Church of the Mountains.

Money such as this will buy tuberculosis vaccines, vitamins, clinic equipment, milk, tools, and will pay nurses in underdeveloped areas.

We thank you for taking part in this move to help children in other countries.

Tim McLane

GOVERNOR HAS GIFT OF KENNEDY ROCKER

SACRAMENTO—(CNS) — Governor Edmund G. Brown, who sports a pair of western-type cowboy boots, courtesy of Governor Price Daniels of Texas, now also sports a Kennedy-type rocking chair, courtesy of Governor Terry Sanford of North Carolina.

"It is not that I am trying to mimic the President of the United States," Brown said, "but Governor Terry Sanford of North Carolina sent one of those to every governor in the United States and I am very appreciative of it.

I CROSS-EXAMINED THAPIUS McKAY'S NURSE, JONATHAN. PRIOR TO HIS DISAPPEARANCE, THEY SAY, HE READ BOOKS ABOUT AFRICA... ALL DAY AND LATE INTO EACH NIGHT!

THIS STORY IN TODAY'S POST WORRIES ME, JONATHAN! IT SAYS OUR CHAIRMAN FRIGHTENED HIS NURSES, HIS LAST NIGHT AT THE CLINIC, BY BEATING HIS CHEST WITH HIS FISTS-- AND SHOUTING, "ME TARZAN!"

I SAY, NO MATTER WHAT IT COSTS, JONATHAN, WE MUST FIND HIM-- AND STOP STORIES LIKE THAT FROM BEING PUBLISHED!
